International Exhibition of Water and Sanitation Technologies

Marrakech, May 13–15, 2026

Venue:

Mohamed VI Museum for the Civilization of Water in Morocco

About SITEau 9

SITEau: A « Public–Private Platform »

As Morocco's first exhibition dedicated to water, sanitation, and water-related energy, SITEau continues to strengthen its international profile. The event follows major global gatherings in the sector, including the 11th World Water Forum, to be held in Riyadh in March 2027 under the auspices of the World Water Council, where Morocco will present the prestigious Hassan II Prize.

After 8 successful editions in Casablanca, SITEau now moves to Marrakech, choosing the exceptional setting of the Mohamed VI Museum for the Civilization of Water. We extend our sincere gratitude to the museum for its hospitality. This edition will address the global water crisis and showcase how Morocco—deeply aware of the intrinsic value of water and its many dimensions—has historically overcome similar challenges with resilience and innovation.

Why SITEau?

Water is central to sustainable development and yet remains the first victim of climate change. This ongoing challenge requires a renewed capacity to understand, question, anticipate, and diversify solutions, always remembering that the crisis is global and shared.

This issue concerns everyone committed to ensuring water security. At the same time, it creates opportunities for new business models, data-driven decision-making, improved governance, innovative investments, emerging professions, new skills—and, ultimately, job creation. The sessions at SITEau 9 aim to co-create practical solutions to current and future challenges while embracing new paradigms.
